Summer 2018 Newsletter

Remembering Nancy

Director's message

2017/18 was another wonderful season for Gabriola Players. From our whacky, out-of-this world panto May the Farce Be with You (see next page to be reminded of the fun) to the wit of our One-Act Play Festival (page 4) to the stitch-in-your-side hilarity of Psychopathia Sexualis (page 5) it was a rollercoaster of laughs.

Although there's been some gardening and other outdoor activities (when we could breathe the air), we haven't been twiddling our thumbs the past couple of months. We've been planning the season to come.

We sought and were fortunate enough to receive permission to launch our 2018/19 season with four staged readings of Forget About Tomorrow, a play by Jill Daum (with music by John Mann) which premiered at the Belfry Theatre earlier this year. Performance dates and more information about this deeply moving play can be found on page 8.

This year's panto, by our own Lesley Hazeldine, will be Pirates of Nursery Rhyme Island. Auditions will be held in the coming week. Lesley and co-director Jenn Feenan encourage everyone – including absolute beginners – to come along and get involved in the fun. (Audition notice on page 7.)

2019 will bring our full-length production in March and our One-Act Play Festival in May. (Have a one-act play you'd like us to read? Get it to us before the end of November for consideration. Details on page 9.) And we are very pleased to announce that the Bard will be back in the garden next July. Garry Davey is still mulling over which comedy to choose.

Our thanks to Derek Kilburn for allowing us to use his November 2013 front page picture of Nancy Jenner as Old Man Winter and to Bill Pope for all the other photos in the newsletter.

The farce was definitely with us

It really was a case of "and now for something completely different" with the 2017 Gabriola Players panto, May The Farce Be With You by Andrew Yates. Ginny Lowes found and directed this whacky cross between Jack and the Beanstalk and Star Wars. And what a wonderful job she did transforming the script into an out of this world, fun-for-the-whole-family production.

Ginny has been an integral part of Gabriola Players and a panto stalwart for many years. Sadly for us and our audiences (but very happily for her), Ginny has decided to embark on a new adventure, relocating to another beautiful part of the country, the Niagara peninsula.

Ginny has her serious side (as witnessed in her moving performance in The Laramie Project in 2016), but there is no doubt the farce is with her. The community theatre groups of southern Ontario will be as thrilled to meet her as we are sad to see her go.

After multiple appearances as the pantomime villain, Ginny finally got to play the Dame in 2016. In true fashion, she milked it for all it was worth!

HAPPY TRAILS, GINNY!

One-Act News

Our ever-popular One-Act Play Festival was once again a huge hit with Gabriola audiences. There were sold out performances for this year's plays.

For the second year in a row, our own Lesley Hazeldine delighted audiences with a warm, witty one-act play written about life on our wonderful island. Following The Family Visit in 2017, Lesley came right back with this year's delightful Living in Paradise, directed by Jenn Feenan and starring Lesley and Charlie Cheffins as a couple who begin their doey-eyed life on Gabriola, loving everything about island living (including the does), only to find themselves ten years later moaning about exactly the same things.

Not only did the play wow audiences on Gabriola, but director and cast were invited to do it all again on Galliano in May. The play, to which anyone living on a ferry-dependent Gulf Island can relate, was as warmly received by audiences on Galliano as the cast and crew were by their hosts. There is now talk of the Galliano theatre group bringing one of their productions to Gabriola next year. Watch this space.

The second offering in this year's festival was Alan Arkin's somewhat surreal play Virtual Reality, directed by Donna Deacon.

The bumbling and frequently profane efforts of Lefty (Joe DiCara) and DeRecha (Dave Innell) to prepare for an unspecified "job" had audiences scratching their heads whilst doubling over with laughter. Virtual Reality and Living in Paradise.

In other one-act news...

Audiences who saw the 2017 Festival may not be surprised to learn that An Unhelpful Complication by Miranda Holmes was a finalist in the 2018 Canadian National Playwriting competition. According to one judge, the main challenge with the play was its length. To be staged professionally it should be nearly twice as long. The judge, encouraging a rewrite, continued: "Audiences would certainly, I believe, be very happy to spend more time with these two characters." Time to get writing, Miranda?

And, in full length news, Lesley got busy after last year's panto and wrote one of her own, which will be staged this November. Auditions for Pirates of Nursery Rhyme Island will be held soon. (See page 7 for details.)

Psychopathia Sexualis

When Dave Innell came to the board and announced that he'd found a play called Psychopathia Sexualis that he thought Gabriola Players should do in 2018, well you can imagine the reaction. But then we read it and we had to agree that John Patrick Shanley's play about love, friendship and one man's peculiar attachment to a pair of argyle socks was very funny indeed. Although to be honest, no one involved realised quite how funny it was until opening night when the Rollo Centre was filled with wave after wave of howling laughter. One audience member loved it so much she came to multiple performances!

In case you were unlucky and missed it, here's the plot.

Ellie (Miranda Holmes), who can read him like a book, knows her husband Howard (Paul O'Sullivan) is keeping a secret. It doesn't take her long to worm it out of him.

It seems their friend Arthur (Charlie Cheffins), who is about to marry Texas belle Lucille, is a sock fetishist. Said socks have been stolen by his evil shrink, Dr. Block. Arthur has begged Howard (who thinks he knows a thing or two about psychiatry) to see Block and get the socks back. Without them he is no longer a man and cannot marry Lucille.

Far from retrieving the socks and beating the psychiatrist at his own game, Dr. Block (Garry Davey) succeeds in destroying Howard's self esteem.

Ellie decides Lucille (Donna Deacon) has a right to know about all this before she ties the knot with Arthur. She manages to persuade her friend this fetish thing isn't the end of the world. As long as they can get the socks back, Lucille's marriage to Arthur can be filled with many more "experiences".

Lucille, taking the bull by the horns, knocks the psychiatrist's block off. (No surprise that Donna Deacon and partner Garry Davey chewed up the scenery in this scene.)

Socks and honour restored, it's time for the wedding.

Coming in September

FORGET ABOUT TOMORROW

By Jill Daum

(Play by Jill Daum with songs by John Mann, performed with permission of the Belfry Theatre)

Gabriola Players has been honoured to receive special permission from playwright Jill Daum to launch our 2018/19 season with four staged readings of her deeply moving play Forget About Tomorrow.

Daum, the wife of Spirit of the West singer John Mann, knows from tragic personal experience the devastating impact a diagnosis of Alzheimer's can have on a family. This is the subject her play tackles with pathos and with humour.

ROLLO CENTRE
Thursday-Saturday, September 20, 21 & 22 at 7pm
Sunday, September 23 at 2pm

Do you have a story to tell?

1X0

One of the most popular productions in our 10th Anniversary Season was the annual one-act play festival, which in 2015 featured three new one-act plays written by Gabriolans. Since then we have tried to ensure that at least one of the plays in the festival was a new play written by a Gabriolan playwright. In 2016 we had one. Last year we had two. This spring we had another one.

This is a tradition we very much want to keep alive.

Do you have a story to tell? If so, we are inviting you to submit your script for possible inclusion in our 2019 One-Act Play Festival.

Plays should be no less than twenty minutes and no more than an hour in length.

The deadline for submissions is 30 November 2018. Scripts can be sent electronically to gabriolaplayers@gmail.com (please use "OAP Submit" as the subject) or posted to: Gabriola Players, PO Box 374, Gabriola Island V0R
